3 / 1992

FOREWORD

- This 25th issue of Lasalliana is the third and last of 1992. With its publication we complete the first four years of this second stage of our magazine.

Though number 25 has nothing remarkable about it, it is worthy of celebration.

I think there are the following reasons also to be content with these 25 issues of Lasalliana:

- We have noticed increasing interest in our magazine.
- Contributions are arriving from every part of the Institute.
- In many Districts not only Brothers are reading it, but also other groups connected with education, especially lay teachers and other members of the Lasallian Family.
- Quite a number of Districts have asked for more than one copy of our magazine and have been distributing it among persons and in circles interested in our Family.
- The subjects we deal with are sources for reflection and study. We can see this by the number of our articles which are reproduced in District Bulletins and Reviews.

For those reasons we can congratulate and be pleased with ourselves.

- This year we gave you as a present an special issue of Lasalliana, with pictures of Brothers who are Saints or Blessed or whose canonisation causes have been introduced.

We propose to continue offering a special number each year in addition to the usual three.

- An index by author and subject matter of the 500 articles printed so far will, God willing, be produced in number 26, which will appear in January 1993.

- It is desirable, and we hope you will help us in this, that any article from Lasalliana reproduced elsewhere should mention where it comes from: please mention Lasalliana with all such articles.
