N° 30

(English)

2 / 1994

May – August / 1994

INTRODUCTION

● This issue of Lasalliana, number 30, is the second for 1994. The third and final issue of the year, number 31, will be a special publication of the Lasallian Chronology. An extensive series of pages will list by year, month, and day the events, actions, and documents in the life of Saint John Baptist de La Salle.

● In this current issue we present, as an exception, an unusually long essay spread over 9 pages, entitled "Why 'Brothers' and not 'Fathers'?" This article is an original contribution by Brother Pascual Maymí, professor at the Pontifical Institute of Saint Pius X, Madrid. Our original intention was to publish the article over several issues, but those who had read the entire essay advised us to present it in its entirety so that readers would better understand Brother Pascual's total argument. Thus, we have chosen to delay the appearance of a number of other contributions that had been scheduled for this present issue.

● We are sending as a gift to all our readers an image of the Blessed Martyrs of Almería in the same format as the series of illustrations entitled "Holiness a sign of life," published by Lasalliana in 1992 in cooperation with the Postulator General. Our intention is to help you complete your collection of these prints or your set of framed images.

● Accompanying this issue of Lasalliana is Number 15 of the "Bibliographia Lasalliana", a series which has been published regularly since issue 14 of Lasalliana, that is, since its second phase beginning in 1989.

These pages of the bibliography list books that are Lasallian in nature, whether pertaining to the Founder, to the Institute or to the Brothers, or whether written by Brothers.

These books have been sent to the Generalate and are deposited in the Archives or in the Library. For some time now, a number of Districts and individual Brothers have been thoughtful in sending copies of their publications to the Generalate. If everyone were to do the same, we would have an immense bibliographical treasure. Our hope is to continue to distribute information about these titles by means of the "Bibliographia Lasalliana."

Furthermore, we have included on several occasions a list of all the editions published by certain Districts since their origin. This initiative has encouraged several other Districts to prepare their own complete lists. Already in hand in view of eventual publication are the entire lists of titles from four Districts, and others have promised to send theirs as well. All of these comprehensive lists will be printed in time.
